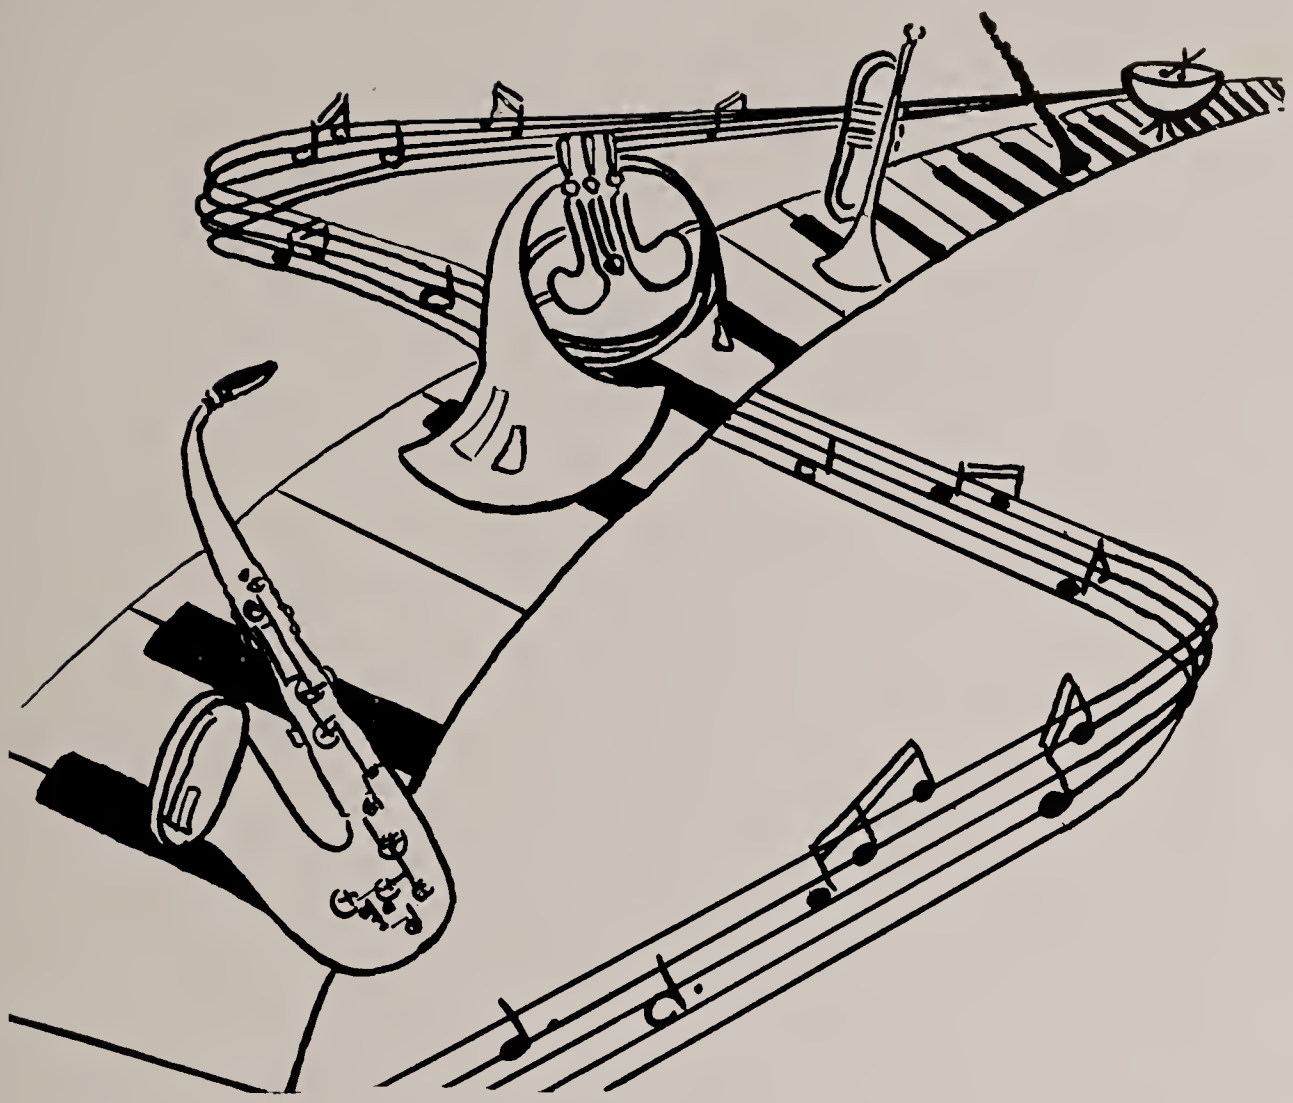
NAPPANEE HIGH SCHOOL ● NAPPANEE, INDIANA



1951 Napanet

Welcome to the pages of the 1951 Napanet. Come along with us and we shall show you just how "harmony" is important in school life. As we take you through these pages do not think of it as just a school, but as one that is strictly in tune.

Accent in Conversing . . .

English Class

"Bernell, could you improve that last sentence?" Yes, it is Mrs. Miles and her senior English class putting into practice the techniques of good sentence structure.

History Class

Ah, yes, good old U. S. History, and Mr. Best is teaching the junior class many of the elements of American history.

Rhythm in Classes . . .

Speech Class

"Mechtilde Greschl, may I present Edward Eilers." Introductions are only a part of the many activities performed by the speech class.

Spanish Class

From what she has written Greta seems to think Spanish is very easy. Mr. Holaway, being an authority on Spanish, would naturally make the subject easy.

Harmony in Projects . . .

Agriculture Class

Steady, Howard; we wouldn't want you to spill anything. Experimenting and testing are favorite activities of the agriculture class and in this picture they are testing soil for phosphorus.

Home Economics Class

Bring the water to a boil; then add your chocolate, and stir until thick. Maybe we should let these home economics girls handle the cooking; they seem to be getting along fine without us.

Ray Shank Motors
Chevrolet Cars-Trucks

Stress in Expression . . .

Art Class

Why is everyone looking at Rachael's drawing? Could it possibly be a masterpiece? That is probable because we have had superior work from the art department.

Shop Class

Watch out! Hold it still; don't get your hand in that saw. This is the shop class and here they do anything from pounding nails to making mechanical drawings.

The Elkhart Truth
And Radio Station WTRC and WTRC-FM

Cadence in Communication . . .

Shorthand Class

Take a letter, please. Oh, sorry; we thought we were in an office; but it is just the shorthand class. Give the girls time; they may be secretaries some day.

Typing Class

What! Dana Gray busy typing! But that is possible with the gentle urging and excellent instruction by Mr. Postma.

Pontiac and International Trucks

Meter in Symmetry . . .

Geometry Class

You ask what Greta is doing. She is just completing a geometry theorem under the supervision of her teacher, Mr. Roose.

Physical Education Class

Ring-a-round-a-rosy. But if you will look closer you will find the physical education girls are doing a few steps of a square dance.

In Harmony with Activities

Extra-curricular activities occupy much of our time and it is in these that we can express our ideas and display our talents.

Radio broadcasting, having been introduced this year, is now one of our most popular activities and has given many students a chance to participate. The picture at the left is a scene on the day of a broadcast. Around the first microphone: Vance George, Gene Johnson, Jerry Lentz, Forrest Dunnuck. Second microphone: Fred Wilt, Dana Gray. Seated—James Burt, Alice Slabaugh, David Stouder, Jolene Klingaman.

Napanet

The members of the annual staff and their advisors could not count the number of hours that were spent in bringing to you this year's "Napanet." We sincerely hope that it has told you a story of our school life and that you have enjoyed leafing through its pages.

Administration

"Joy and satisfaction in the achievements of youth with whom one has worked and lived and shared is the most cherished reward of a true teacher. Time immortalizes the enduring values — amplifies and enshrines the friendships — sweetens the sacrifices — erases the memories of the small things—and exalts the victories of the spirit. Time will bring you again and again to these pages. May each return bring you a realization of the enrichment brought your life by friends, teachers and fellow-students."

William R. Kendall, Superintendent

"It is the essential function of the high school to afford the youth of our community with an opportunity to build a well-rounded personality, including social, physical, and spiritual, as well as intellectual development. The concentrated effort of both parent and teacher is required to provide the many and varied experiences necessary for normal growth. Thus the problem of providing the students with an environment which is fitted to various stages of growth becomes a never ending challenge. By development of the proper environment we hope to help students to a way of life which will lead to greater happiness and well-being."

Seniors!!! At last. You ask if we're proud of it. Of course, we are. We have shared many things together, including our joys and our complaints.

One of our activities this year was a trip to the State Legislature, with visits to the Soldiers and Sailors Monument and the War Memorial in Indianapolis. We are looking forward to our Senior trip at the close of the school year.

It is difficult for us to realize that soon we will be leaving N. H. S.; but we will face the future with courage and determination.

In September seventy members of the Class of "54" entered Nappanee High School for their freshman year.

We have studied hard (we hope our teachers think so) to prepare ourselves for the future; we have entered into the various activities of N.H.S.; we have also had our fun (so our citizenship grades have shown).

We are grateful to Mr. White and Mrs. Maust who served as our sponsors, and to Carolyn Kern and Sue Wright, who represented us on the Student Council.

Nappanee Bulldog Players

FORREST DUNNUCK

"Ike," a valuable man on the team this year, not only helped Nappanee to a great season, but set many records for himself and the school. He is believed to have Nappanee's all time high scoring mark in a season, is tied for the most points scored in one sectional tournament (65), having scored 33 points in the game against Goshen. An invaluable guard will be lost by graduation.

RICHARD ULINE

"Rich," a tall forward for the Bulldogs, picked up steam in the latter part of the season to help carry Nappanee to a seven game winning streak and a semi-final berth in the sectional. A good rebounder, his one handed shooting made him dangerous. He was lost to the team for about five games because of sickness. Rich is a senior.

EDWARD EILERS

The tallest boy on the squad, standing at 6' 4", "Big Ed" grabbed many rebounds and chalked up points with his tip-ins. Ed was a center on the team and did a great job. He will be lost to team through graduation.

CARL HECKAMAN

Carl, with his spirit and aggressiveness, helped Nappanee to a victorious season and a holiday tourney championship. "Cardy," an all over the floor man, was a forward most of the time. He stacked up many points for the Bulldogs. He is a senior.

DENNIS BRUMBAUGH

A good set shot from far out on the floor helped "Bud" to roll up points when they were badly needed in close games. Bud's accuracy in hitting these shots helped Nappanee to her great season. He was a guard, and will be lost to the team by graduation.

JERRY LENTZ

A valuable reserve, and often a starter, Jerry's fight and determination to win gave Nappanee many victories. He was a stocky rebounder and a good shot. Jerry always did his best in every game in which he competed. He was a forward and will be lost to the team by graduation.

WILFRED ANGLIN

His ability as a good rebounder and quick shot artist helped "Willie" show what he could really do. He sparkled his most about mid season and from then on was regarded as a valuable player. He was a forward and will be lost by graduation.

RALPH UMBAUGH

As a reserve guard Ralph could hit many shots from out around the foul circle, and he did just that in most of the games he played. His accuracy helped the team to roll up some of their very high scores. He is a senior, and will be lost by graduation.

KEITH McCUEN

A valuable reserve forward, Keith saw much action during the season. His shooting and rebounding enabled the team to win many of the games. Keith will be counted on for more basketball in the next two years, since he is only a sophomore.

EDWIN KERN

His reputation as a good "long shot shooter" made "Ed" a top reserve among the team. His drive and ball handling could be counted on in every game he played. He will be back for another season, as he is a junior.

Football

Football was inaugurated at Nappanee this year and more than thirty boys reported to make up the squad. The first game of the year was with the Elkhart "B" team and it was at that time that the Memorial Field was dedicated. A capacity crowd attended that game; attendance at all games indicated enthusiasm for our new sport.

The Naps could not get on the winning side this year but in most of the games they gave the opponents stiff competition. Much credit must be given to the coaches and the boys who composed the team.

We are looking forward to the next season of football which should, in a very short time, become one of the most popular sports of Nappanee High School.

Cross Country

The cross country team was just organized in the fall; therefore there has been very little opportunity to arrange meets with other teams.

The team is composed mostly of under-classmen and we are hoping that they will have a successful season next year.

Cheerleaders

In spite of Nappanee's losing football season, we were fortunate in having Patricia Richmond, Jo Ann Farrington, Glen Stump, and Niles Hunsberger as our cheerleaders. Their undying spirit kept up the enthusiasm of the faithful followers of the Bulldogs even if the sport was fairly new to them.

Left to Right: Patricia Richmond, Glen Stump, Greta Bigler, Niles Hunsberger, JoAnn Farrington.

Greta Bigler, Glen Stump, and Niles Hunsberger served as our basketball cheerleaders.

One of their duties was to be in charge of the numerous pep sessions held throughout the season; and, of course, they did a splendid job in leading the cheering fans during our games and in spiriting the team on to victory.

Action!

What are they doing?
Just warming up for a game.

I wonder what they are saying? Probably cooking up some clever play for the next quarter.

Watch them, Ike! Don't let those Comets steal that ball.

Please, Schlundt, don't make that basket.

Nurse and Bookstore

Yes, it's Annie Woodhams, the school nurse.

In her sparkling office, situated in the grade building, you can find any number of antiseptics and first aid equipment.

No matter what the ailment, Annie's cheery manner and bright smile, coupled with her friendly advice, are a healing influence.

Annie Woodhams, Brent Nettrour

"A pack of notebook paper, please." That is a familiar phrase heard at the bookstore.

The store is open from 8:00 to 8:20 o'clock in the morning and 12:35 to 12:45 at noon.

Mr. Holaway manages the store with the assistance of Mary Rockstroh and Jane Strauss.

Profits from the store are put into a general school fund from which books are bought for rental by the students.

Custodians and Cafeteria

The three men you see in the picture below are the first to arrive in the morning and the last to leave at night. They have done a splendid job in keeping the school neat and clean from day to day.

Hmm, smell that food! Yes, it's coming from the cafeteria where excellent meals are prepared for the students each noon. The cooks have worked hard and are to be commended for their fine work.
